Probably stripteasers too!

British Columbia is about to remove the drab wraps from its politics. It used to be that politicians wishing to become elected members of the provincial legislature had to go to all the bother of acquiring an honest character, a sensible platform and a comfortable pair of shoes in which to go trudging from door to door ringing bells and talking to potential supporters.

The trudging from door to door was essential because over the years it had become apparent that thousands of citizens with the power to vote had no trouble at all in staying away from political meetings. They had somehow reached the conclusion that when they entered a hall containing a stage or platform they were entitled to entertainment and British Columbia politicians by and large failed to fill the bill.

Life henceforth is to be easier on politicians' feet and more attractive to the good bourgeois. Thanks to the carnival spirit of the Soeds, it is now legal for B.C. politicians to offer some other bonafide entertainment besides their own ideas without running foul of the law.

Mr. Bennett's government has made an amendment to the elections act which makes it possible for high-pressure campaign managers to enliven the scene with banners, flags, lapel buttons and funny hats; to hire jazz bands, kooch dancers, trained seals, cowboy minstrels, jugglers or acrobats. Heretofore, if one can believe it, all these things were prohibited and as a result the people of B.C. found their political life wanting in verve. It just wasn't box office stuff.

But the Soeds are changing all that. It is now possible to do anything to lure in the non-paying customers, "within the bounds of good taste." But there, as some writer once said, is the rub.

What will constitute good taste and what will be condemned as bad taste when no man will be able to get a job as campaign manager unless he has come up through the ranks of the carnival barkers? The competition will be terrific when two or more political medicine shows hit town the same night, and the very destiny of British Columbia may hang on the comparative drawing power of a baboon riding a bicycle backwards and three men in blackface telling excruciatingly hilarious stories.

The picture does not by any means flatter the intelligence and responsibility of the voters of B.C., nor does it indicate that those responsible have a very high opinion of the voters, and we wonder if the politicians who revised the elections act have not shunted the blame for election apathy to the wrong place. Is it entirely the people's fault that they are bored with politicians? And is it only coincidence that Sir Winston Churchill, for instance, has never found it necessary to accept double-billing with a troupe of contortionists to attract an audience?

Misleading comparison

(Victoria Colonist)

Despite the fact that the basis of his comparison of the new liquor tax with the present sales tax was blown to pieces during the recent debate in the legislature, Premier Bennett persists in representing the 10 per cent levy as an increase of only 7 per cent. In actual fact the revenue from drinks sold by the glass will be anywhere from 800 to 1,000 per cent higher in dollars and cents than returns from the tax on bottles sold in liquor stores.

Mr. Bennett confuses the whole issue by attempting to compare taxes applied at totally different levels. "The liquor tax of 10 per cent is only an increase of 7 per cent because 3 per cent would have been applied in any case," the premier stated in an address here this week. That conclusion is completely erroneous, as a simple calculation will show.

The 3 per cent sales tax on a $3.50 bottle of rye sold at a liquor store produces 11 cents. That is all the licensed clubs have had to pay in the past. The new tax, however, is levied on the retail price charged for each drink sold. The usual club price for a drink of that sort is 35 cents on which the tax, computed to the nearest cent above, comes to 4 cents. Multiply that by the 23 drinks which clubs generally pour from each bottle, and the tax return becomes 92 cents, which is more than eight times what the government used to get from the 3 per cent sales tax. Furthermore a 10 per cent tax at the customer's level producing 92 cents amounts to a tax of almost 25 percent on the liquor store price.

That is the effect now of the tax as applied in licensed clubs. When public drinking places are in operation next year, however, the returns to the government will climb even higher. Assuming that drinks can be sold there for 50 cents—and that may be a conservative estimate—a $3.50 bottle will yield $1.15 in tax, which comes to 34 per cent on the store price of the bottle and represents 10 1/2 times the return in dollars and cents when compared with the sales tax yield.

Even when the municipalities' one-half share is subtracted the government will get 57 1/2 cents a bottle, against the 11 cents the 3 per cent sales tax produces, which is a 500 per cent increase. Added to this there will be the yield from the 10 per cent tax on meals, cigarettes and everything else sold in some types of premises licensed under the new act.

Pyramidd this way, the new tax appears as anything but the "small" levy Premier Bennett describes it as. By representing the return to the province as only 2 per cent higher than that from the 3 per cent sales tax, Mr. Bennett certainly does not assist public understanding of the real effect of this new tax policy.

Earl Murchison recovering from shotgun wounds

Earl A. Murchison, well-known automobile dealer and prominent sportsman in the Okanagan Valley, is recovering from painful injuries to his face, arms, hands and other portions of his body following a hunting accident.

Accident occurred when Murchison, flight in front of Murchison. A companion and a friend were pheasant shooting in the area. Murchison was hunting in a draw at South Kelowna.

Dr. T. J. O'Neill said that while injuries were not serious, it is expected that the sportsman will be confined to hospital for several days.

Curling season officially opened

While the executive looks on, wondering if the rock is going to reach the hog line, Mayor Jack Ladd prepares to send the first rock down the ice, marking the official opening of the Kelowna Curling Club's 1953-54 season. The occasion was just prior to the start of the president versus vice-president match Monday night.

First drowning this year

Two-and-a-half-year-old child drowned in Mill Creek before eyes of playmate

The first time 2 1/2-year old Byron Matthew Sperle wandered away from home turned out tragically to be the last. Missing from his home on Elliott Avenue only a short time late Tuesday afternoon, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew A. Sperle, 795 Elliott Avenue, became the city's first drowning victim of the year.

Slow running, tortuous Mill Creek, that winds its way through a heavily populated section of the city to empty into Okanagan Lake at The City Park, snuffed out the boy's life.

Though in the water only a short time, efforts to revive him, both at the scene of the tragedy and at Kelowna General Hospital, proved useless.

First hint of trouble came from a young playmate of the drowned boy. Glen Wilson, just under two years, and who lives across the street from the Sperles, was with Byron at the time he fell into the water a short distance upstream from the Richter Street bridge and about a block from the Sperle's residence.

The discovery will haunt Mrs. T. G. Crosby, 741 Elliott, for some time.

Police car hits heifer

Considerable damage to the front end of an RCMP patrol car was caused at dusk Tuesday in a collision with a heifer on Highway 97, a short distance above the Westside ferry wharf.

Constable, Ab Williams shot the heifer, suffering from a broken leg and other injuries. The heifer belonged to Pete Casorso, according to police. The damaged auto was a 1953 Chevrolet coach.

Valley-wide tourist association urged to encourage visitors to B.C. Interior

Necessity of a valley-wide tourist association being formed if the interior is to benefit from tourist dollars, was stressed by Frank Ryall at a meeting of the Okanagan Valley Auto Court and Resort Operators' Association held here last week.

It was also pointed out that until Vernon forms a local association to join with Penticton and Kelowna branches, definite progress toward formation of an Okanagan-wide association could not be made. Ted Holmes, of Vernon, stated that steps have already been taken along these lines, and he hoped that a group would be functioning by next year.

An official of the government travel bureau spoke on tourist promotion and also touched on the Travel Bureau Guide published annually by the government for the benefit of tourists.

Best Gibbs, of Penticton, director of the provincial executive of the ACRA dealt with the special laws of fire insurance and he and Jack Pound outlined the value of membership in the association. They also offered to prolong their stay here to assist in the signing of new members, and invited as many of the members as possible to attend the annual convention to be held in Vancouver next month.

Statements of witnesses are being taken by Royal Canadian Mounted Police so that an official coroner's inquiry can be completed by Coroner Dr. J. A. Urquhart.

The funeral service was held this morning, attended by a large gathering of friends and relatives. Rt. Rev. W. B. McKenzie celebrated the Requiem Mass in the Church of The Immaculate Conception. Burial followed in the Catholic cemetery, Okanagan Mission.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a younger brother, Robert, aged 11 months; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. C. Sperle, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bohn, all in Kelowna. Day's Funeral Service Ltd. was in charge.

Barge runs ashore

Dense fog caused a heavily-laden fruit barge to run aground Tuesday morning, a few hundred yards south of the Kelowna Aquatic Club.

A CPR tug was towing a barge loaded with railway cars when the skipper lost his bearings. Visibility was almost zero.

The barge foundered in front of the lakeshore residence of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Seath, 1084 McDougall Avenue, about 3:00 a.m. It was about six hours before it was pulled off shore. The barge was not damaged.

The railway cars, loaded with fruit and vegetables from the south end of the valley, were enroute to Kelowna for rail shipment.

"It could have been Byron in water," the boy was saying, but it sounded like Denny to me," Mrs. Crosby recounted. "I only wish I had come along five minutes sooner and the boy might have been pulled out in time."

"Oh, why couldn't I have come along sooner?" Mrs. Crosby keeps asking herself.

INQUIRY TO BE HELD
The distraught father of the dead boy, who was working at his job in the Post Office at the time of the mishap, reported that Mr. Wunderlich tried artificial respiration on the spot until a car came along and was flagged down. The boy then was hurried to the hospital for further resuscitation measures.

Grower-owned hail insurance company pays out $181,000 to date in claims and rebates

Alex Bennett, retired building contractor, dies

Alexander Cormack Bennett, 1040 Harvey Avenue, well-known city resident and retired building contractor, died in hospital Tuesday at the age of 71. He was predeceased by his wife a little more than a year ago.

A resident of the city for the past 43 years, the late Mr. Bennett erected many of the buildings in Kelowna as well as several in Armstrong and various other centers in the Okanagan. He was born in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Final Anglican rites will be held Friday at 3:00 p.m. from the chapel of Day's Funeral Service Ltd., Rev. Robert Brown of St. Michael and All Angels' Church officiating. Interment will be in the Kelowna cemetery.

Left to mourn the loss are seven children: sons Alex and Wally, both of Kelowna, and Ian of Camrose, Alta.; daughters Jean, at home; Mrs. A. (Lily) Neil, Kamloops; Mrs. Bud (Margaret) Moffat, Edmonton, and Mrs. S. (Betty) Hill, Vernon.

Pall-bearers tomorrow will be: Messrs. Hugh McCormick, Dave Newton, Albert Tellman, Max Jenkins, Felix Sutton and Ed Hartwick.

1953 was one of worst hail seasons in history of fruit industry

Okanagan growers experienced one of the worst hail seasons in the history of the fruit industry.

This was also borne out by the number of claims paid out by the grower-owned British Columbia Fruit Growers' Mutual Hail Insurance Company. Out of $3,300,000 worth of hail insurance written this year, the company paid out $181,000 to growers who had lost all or part of their fruit crop.

Formed in 1950, the co-operative company wrote insurance to the value of $600,000 the first year in operation. The second year business slipped to $527,000, but in 1952 it jumped to $1,500,000, and this year the figure exceeded the three million dollar mark.

According to George H. Northan, BCFGHIC manager, the company has paid out in claims and rebates all but $8,000 of the total premium income in the four years of operation. In 1950, hail claims totalled $17,000. The figure dropped to $3,000 in 1951 and last year jumped to around $19,000. This year, the worst hail year growers have experienced, claims were $181,000.

Of the 14 areas insured by the company, only seven districts were not hit by hail, Mr. Northan said. Severe down-grading damage was experienced in seven sections of the northern fruit growing area; four sections of the central fruit growing area, and three sections in the south end of the valley. A large percentage of the hail-damaged fruit was diverted to B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd., for processing purposes.

Mr. Northan declared that the grower-owned hail insurance company "has definitely proved its value by being able to pay all claimants in full regardless of the fact that this has been the worst hail year in history."

Honor war dead

Ex-servicemen and citizens pay respects to those who made Supreme Sacrifice

"Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for a friend."—St. John 15:13.

With these few simple but well-chosen words, Rev. R. S. Leitch, Canadian Legion Chaplain, expressed the feelings of the massed citizens in front of the Cenotaph at Kelowna City Park, gathered to pay their respects to the valiant and immortal soldiers, sailors and airmen who made the Supreme Sacrifice in two World Wars and the recently concluded struggle in Korea.

Chaplain Leitch expressed hope that the nations of the world would turn to God and ask Divine guidance for a solution to the many problems that might threaten the peace, for which men and women had given their lives.

LASTING PEACE
"May they pray for guidance so that a solution, fair and equitable to all, will bring lasting peace so that never again will nations be forced to take up the sword against a brother nation."

As the congregation bared their heads and bowed for the moment of silence, moisture glistened on the face of the monument—but not there only—tears shone on the cheeks of many of the group who remembered loved ones and felt again the pain of their passing.

Following the silence, the clear, sweet tones of the bugle played by Murray Cowie sounded "Reveille" and P. F. Hilborn, president of the Legion, laid the first wreath.

Parade Commander, Major Don White of the Dragons placed the second wreath and then ranks throughout the parade broke and the base of the Cenotaph became a mass of green and scarlet as friends and relatives added their symbols of remembrance.

PARADE TO ARENA
When ranks were reformed following the ceremony at the Cenotaph the parade continued to the front of Memorial Arena where Mr. Hilborn placed a single wreath beneath the plaque which dedicated the building.

The parade formed up promptly at 10:30 on Ellis Street in front of the Legion Hall under the capable direction of Parade-Marshal Hilborn. The order of parade was issued under the direction of Lieut. Colonel G. D. Johnson, Officer Commanding the British Columbia Dragons.

"This enterprise has again proved the far sightedness of the fruit growers of the BCFGHIC by producing a fuller protection against hail damage at a lesser cost due to the fact that the company is being operated on a co-operative basis," he said.

ANNUAL MEETING
Report on the 1953 operations will be submitted to grower members at the annual meeting to be held in the board room of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. January 18, the day before the annual BCFGHIC convention opens in Penticton.

The company employs nine field inspectors on a part-time basis. Mr. Northan, was the lone employee when the insurance company was formed in 1950. There are now three full-time office employees, while commission agents are also employed for five months of the year.

Hail damage claims are not paid until harvest time. In the event of a hail storm, an inspector determines the extent of damage, and prior to harvest, he makes the actual adjustment based on the percentage of damage to the crop.

Directors of the company are E. A. Titchmarsh, Penticton, president; Nigel Pooley, East Kelowna, vice-president; and directors J. B. M. Clarke, Keremeos; J. A. English, Penticton; C. M. Nettleton, Naramata; E. M. Tait and Ned Bentley, Summerland; and George Turner, Vernon.

RCMP constable returns to Kelowna
Back on strength of the local RCMP detachment is Constable Ab Williams. He replaces Constable Fred Wallace who was transferred to Prince George.

Const. Williams put in some time here two years ago and has served on other detachments in B.C. since. He is in charge of the Westbank area at the present time.

Teachers want salary talks based on "local level" and not on Okanagan-wide scale

Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association has requested that valley-wide negotiations on teachers' salaries be discontinued, and has formally informed trustees of Kelowna School District No. 23 that they wish to open discussions on a "local level" for salary adjustments.

"Amount of wage increase requested has not been disclosed, although a spokesman for the teachers said the salary adjustment desired would be based on "professional reasons" rather than on the cost of living.

G. C. Hume, school board chairman, admitted that formal application for a new contract was received from the teachers Tuesday night. The matter was tabled.

LOWEST AN PROVINCE
Frank Bishop, chairman of Kelowna district salary committee, explained the reason the teachers are desirous of removing negotiations from a valley-wide basis is that there are now 18 groups in the OYTA whereas there used to be eleven. The B.C. Teachers Federation is also opposed to a provincial scale.

Mr. Bishop said that generally speaking teachers salaries in the Okanagan Valley are the lowest in the province. Group negotiation and arbitration might be the reason, he said.

Under the new set-up, city councils would have to individually arbitrate any increase in school board budgets, if they opposed higher education costs.

FORMAL PRESS RELEASE
Following is the formal press release issued by the OYTA:

"Valley-wide negotiations on teachers' salaries in the Okanagan are to be discontinued. This decision was reached by the executive of the Okanagan Teachers' Association meeting in Kelowna on Saturday.

"While they expressed appreciation for the negotiations with the valley trustees during the past few years, the teachers felt the board's request that they negotiate with Dr. L. E. English of the Kamloops School Board and T. R. Watt, of Watt's Research Council, Vancouver, was not in the best interests of education. The feeling was expressed that negotiations with these men rather than valley trustees had removed the talks too far from the local level and out of the Okanagan Valley altogether."

Jack Miller's hat-trick boots Packers into basement again

Locals lose three-goal lead again; Culley garners four points

Vernon 6, Kelowna 5

There is a shining new star in the Vernon Canadians' firmament as Jack Miller, as tricky a forward that ever stripped in the OSAH League, banged the gong for the hat-trick Tuesday night at Memorial Arena before an estimated crowd of over 2,000 roaring fans. Miller paced the league leaders to a rousing 6-5 come-from-behind verdict over the sagging, but valiant, Kelowna Packers.

Miller's three-goal effort was ably seconded by Leo Lucchini who tallied a brace as the Canucks fought back from the brink of defeat three times before picking up in with a singleton to wrap up the scoring for the Agarmen.

Packer's Don Culley, the "hat-trick kid" of last outing, hammered at the gate of John Sofiak's temple endlessly, trying to duplicate the feat, and came up with a pair of goals and a like number of assists but the trisum evaded his clutching fingers.

Miller's three-goal effort was ably seconded by Leo Lucchini who tallied a brace as the Canucks fought back from the brink of defeat three times before picking up in with a singleton to wrap up the scoring for the Agarmen.

DURBAN STARTS SCORING

Mike Durban opened the gates for locals at the 1:58 mark of the first period as Culley slid him a pass in the clear behind Canadians' blueline and he deked Sofiak out of his socks to flip the puck easily over his prostrate form.

Miller blinked the light for Canucks at 5:06 when he caught the Packer defence with their night-caps on and waltzed in on Al Laface unmolested, drew him out of the net, to knot the count. Bo Carl-

KIRK DUE TODAY

Will jinx be broken Friday?

When Kelowna Packers engage Pentiction V's in another of those popular, rousing home-and-home series this week-end, (1) Packers will be striving again for their first victory on Pentiction ice since the 1951-52 season, and (2) Backers will be watching the actions of two individuals with special interest.

For Friday, in the game at Pentiction will be the first time that Jack Kirk and Ron Montgomery have played against each other since that memorable fight in Kamloops in the 1949-50 season that resulted in a life suspension for Montgomery. The suspension was lifted two years later as Montgomery joined Pentiction the year the team was formed (1951).

NOT IN SHAPE

Kirk's arrival here to stay is expected hourly today and his

RUTLAND 2, BLACK BOMBERS 5

John Anderson of the Kelowna Black Bombers is a mighty handy man to have around as he single-handedly tallied enough goals Sunday afternoon at the Arina to lead his mates to a 5-2 win over Rutland in commercial league play. It was the Bombers' first win of the infant season.

Anderson hammered out a hat-trick and assisted twice for a five-point afternoon. Lorne Gruber and Dave Newton added the other Kelowna markers. Rutland's markers were Tony Brummet and Tony Senger.

Brummet opened the scoring unassisted for Rutland at the 4:15 mark of the opening period but the lead was short-lived as Anderson, also solo, tied it up less than four minutes later, while Johnny Eso was sitting out a minor in the pockey first appearance in Packer livery will be tomorrow night at Pentiction. V's return here Saturday, with game time set for 9:00 p.m. In this regard, Coach Phil Hergeshelmer pointed out that Kirk has not been playing hockey for some time and that he doesn't expect him to be in top shape for some weeks yet.

While the games at Pentiction Friday and here Saturday will hog the local interest, two other OSHL fixtures could have a big bearing on the standings. Tonight, the Kamloops Elks make their first appearance of the season—two months and four days after the start of the league schedule—in Vernon.

These two teams meet again in Kamloops Saturday night.

WINNING TALLY

Juniors again got out in front in the second stanza when Messrs. Schaefer and Klingbeil teamed at the 5:25 mark, but Feist took things in hand for Firemen three minutes later on a three-way play from Schneider-Badloff, doubled in spades at the 10-minute mark from Schneider and that's the way the Clubs left the ice at the two-thirds point.

Benzer registered the winning tally two minutes 55 seconds after hostilities were resumed and although Folk rang the bell for Juniors once in the final fray the effort just wasn't enough and Firemen had wrapped up the spoils.

Nine penalties, seven of them to Firemen, should have materially aided the Junior cause but they couldn't seem to take advantage of the extra man when it counted.

CIANCONE COMMITTEE

The committee of local men who are preparing a suitable memorial for the late Augie Ciancone, will hold a special meeting Friday, at 7:30 p.m. in the Arina's Memorial Room.

RANGERS LIGHTEST TEAM

New York Rangers, with an average weight of 172 pounds, are the lightest team in the NHL this season. Second lightest is Detroit at 176 pounds.

But enough of that. This is supposed to be my swan-song; my parting piece; my final column as sports editor of The Kelowna Courier. Believe me, it's tough to bring to an end such pleasant associations of such long standing—and tougher to write about it. This is actually the hardest column I've ever written, and consequently takes up the most time.

These seven-plus years (I like to think of them as the best years of my life) have seen tremendous changes—in Kelowna and the entire Okanagan interior. Sports in Kelowna has now reached an eminence in organization it never attained before; almost every imaginable athletic activity is undertaken here, in some degree or other.

I am glad to have had some share in the growing-up and to be able to proclaim with permissible pride that the doors of these sports pages have always been open to everyone and while the coverage given to minor sports was not as extensive as that received by the seniors, it was not due to preference for the latter.

For after all, a newspaper has to cater to its readers' wishes, and to the majority, what the Packers are doing, how the Bruins are faring, what lies ahead for the Orioles, who won the curling draws, how the Ogopogo Open stacks up, what famous swimmers and boatmen will be in the Regatta, whether are Club 13, Rutland Rovers and the Aces going, who won the tennis, badminton, golf and bowling championships, will basketball make a comeback, will the rowing club win the B.C. titles again?—these are the news matters uppermost in the minds of the majority of the people to whom the newspaper is an integral part of their living.

It's been an eventful span of years, but at this moment the pages of the past are like the scraps of copy and information scattered over my desk. In the rush to get this column done so some other duties can be taken care of, I'm sure to miss many of the highlights of the years gone by.

For sentimental reasons, year 1947 stands out. My first column appeared that year . . . I (or I should say Lee and I) embarked on the good ship "Wedded Bliss" . . . Kelowna won the Okanagan International baseball title (via Brewster's default, remember?) . . . A game band of hockey devotees tried to keep the sport alive even though it meant practising and playing games in Vernon . . . And on it goes.

Year 1948 saw major developments, too. It saw the arena started and finished, bringing a new winter life to Kelowna . . . It also brought (year 1948, that is) Sharon and Kerry, the red-headed twins, as our first-born . . . That winter began the rise of Ken Stewart who unwittingly became the finest hero-to-goat-in-one-year epic we've seen in these parts.

I like to recall rambling, mountainous Herb Caporal strolling opponents aside in his crowd-appealing charges down the boxin' floor . . . I'll always remember how satisfied all of us sports-lovers have been the past few years with so many provincial championships and how we look forward with eager longing to the day when Kelowna will also have the Savage Cup . . . or even the Allan Cup . . . I'll treasure the start Kelowna made in Little League baseball, hoping it will continue, for I believe it is the finest organized plan for kids that has come along during my term of service . . . These are among my souvenirs.

But the most prized memory (and possession) of all concerns the friendships I've gained and the kindnesses shown to me and my family by so many good people. Prized for always will be the silver flatware and table given to us on the occasion of our wedding, a gift to which hundreds contributed in a drive masterminded by the friend of us all in Kelowna and district—Willis S. King.

And just as a closing example, to show how little things can mean so much: Monday of this week Game Warden Don Ellis left a pheasant at the house. We enjoyed the meal, and thanks to the ingenuity of my wife, the kids have had Indian head-sets of colored feathers ever since and as any mother and father knows, it takes plenty to keep kids occupied these days. As "Indians," they've been occupied for hours each day and are the envy of the rest of the kids in the neighborhood.

A final thought: I've never had reason to be ashamed of how Kelowna and District athletes conducted themselves or how the game was played. Let's keep it that way.

For no matter what you have, don't envy those you meet; 'Tis all the same, it's in the game, the bitter and the sweet . . . And so, goodbye—and thanks, for everything!

It's in the game, the bitter and the sweet . . . And so, goodbye—and thanks, for everything!

Take leading roles in KLT production

A young lass, recently arrived from Scotland is to take a role in the Kelowna Little Theatre production "Ah Wilderness."

Dagne McGregor, the new CARS physiotherapist who has been in the valley three months, will take the part of Mrs. Miller.

Although keenly interested in acting and drama, Miss McGregor has never appeared in a three-act play before. Prior to coming to Kelowna she spent some time in Edmonton where she took a six-month course in acting through the extension department of the University of Alberta.

During this course she made her stage debut, playing the role of the English girl in Shaw's "Queen Catherine."

Also appearing in the production, in the role of a dapper salesman is Don Haines, already familiar to Kelowna audiences for his roles in "Golden Boy," "Man Who came to Dinner," and "Hands across the Sea."

Mr. Haines was also the director of "Hands across the Sea" which won various awards in the recent South Okanagan Drama Festival and in the Kelowna District Drama Festival.

"Ah Wilderness," to be produced in the Empress Theatre on the 23rd and 24th of this month, is a comedy by Eugene O'Neill. It is a play which concerns people in every walk of life, about a family in a town not unlike the Orchard City.

Public speaking contest

Rebekah's to sponsor interior teenager to attend I.O.O.F. U.N. pilgrimage

Fifty-four members of the Okanagan Rebekah District Association number one, representing Princeton, Oliver, Penticton, Kelowna, Summerland, Vernon, Armstrong, Enderby and Salmon Arm attended the semi-annual meeting held at Salmon Arm Wednesday.

Brother Whiting of Vancouver, guest speaker, spoke of the I.O.O.F. United Nations Pilgrimage.

In future interior lodges will be taking larger part in this work and plans are now afoot for the association to sponsor and pay all expenses for one boy or girl to attend.

Contestants will be chosen from each community with the help of the high school, principal. They must be from grades 10 or 11 and not over 17 years of age.

An elimination contest in public speaking will be held at a later date, the winner to go on the I.O.O.F. pilgrimage next July.

All lodges represented at the meeting reported progress in membership and in the work of Rebekah Oddfellowship.

A committee was set up to review the by-laws of the association since growth of the fraternity has since out-moded those originally set up.

Jim Snowsell heads Glenmore drama

GLENMORE—The Glenmore dramatic group met on Wednesday last week and elected Jim Snowsell chairman and Mrs. Jack Snowsell secretary.

The group must find a new director for their plays before they can start working on a production.

Peachland church women plan annual bazaar December 4

PEACHLAND—St. Margaret's W.A. held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. A. West in Trepanier Thursday of last week.

Final plans were made for their annual bazaar on Friday, December 4.

Mrs. G. Long gave a report on the archdeaconry meeting held in Kelowna.

It was decided to lay a wreath on the Centoph on Remembrance Day. The annual meeting will be held on November 27 at the home of Mrs. G. Long.

School bus service to Rutland bench area refused

RUTLAND—Rutland bench area residents lost the first round in their fight to obtain school bus service for the children.

At the annual meeting of ratepayers of Rutland and Black Mountain school attendance area, Art Pekrul appealed for a school bus service, but he was informed by trustee George Day that the area was under the two-mile radius. Mr. Day contended that eight more busses would be required for School District No. 23 if the Rutland area was serviced.

In appealing for the service, Mr. Pekrul said the long winding roads and the steep climb worked a hardship on small children attending school.

Jack Johnson was chairman of the meeting, and E. W. Barton, of Kelowna, secretary.

NAME REPRESENTATIVES

Election of representatives for the area brought forward the names of George Day, Mrs. Percy Green, Jack Johnson, Art Pekrul, M. W. Marshall and for the Black Mountain area, Jake Anton.

Timothy Cowan, of Fort St. John, recently joined the teaching staff of Rutland High School and will instruct in arts.

On Thursday last, students from the senior agriculture classes were shown through two of the local packinghouses and instructed in fruit and vegetable storage and refrigeration car shipments.

Stresses need for children to use library

GLENMORE—Mrs. M. Foulkes of the Okanagan Union Library, addressed a recent meeting of the Glenmore P.T.A. and expressed the belief that if the better children's books are made available for youngsters to read, majority will develop a preference for them over some of the less-suitable forms of literature.

She said that children should be encouraged to use and enjoy the large selection of books in the Union Library. Her talk was enjoyed by members present.

Don McKay, president, expressed concern over the poor attendance at the meeting and hoped more will turn out in the future. Refreshments were served.

Open house party at Green Gables for H. A. MacDonald

An "Open House" tea will be held in honor of Mr. H. A. MacDonald Sunday at Green Gables. Mr. MacDonald will celebrate his 80th birthday that day.

Mrs. H. C. Collett and Mrs. Art Lander who will be hostesses at the tea say that Mr. MacDonald will be pleased to see any of his many friends in Kelowna and district who may wish to call.

Mr. MacDonald was born at Iris, Prince Edward Island November 15, 1873 and has resided at Okanagan Mission since September 1920 when he came here from Vancouver.

Total receipts from the Kelowna Figure Skating Club's home cooking sale Saturday amounted to $69.

The money will be used towards costumes of this year's carnival. Tentative date for the show has been set for February 20.

It was announced that the skating club has had an encouraging increase in senior members who skate Sunday and Monday evenings. Others who wish to join will be welcomed.

Close to 100 Glenmore children turn out for initial instruction in square dancing

GLENMORE—Square dancing classes started last Saturday evening when 96 eager juniors registered. They range from 6 to 12 years of age and receive instruction from 6.30 till 8.00 p.m.

It is interesting to watch their serious and intent little faces as they try to learn the intricate steps. This is the largest registration of juniors that the group has yet had, and it is now necessary to take the beginners in at 8.00 p.m. and give them extra instruction so that the classes will go more smoothly.

The senior classes start at 8.00 o'clock and although there were nearly 30 present on Saturday, more are expected as the season progresses.

Saturday, Nov. 14 is the date when Glenmore Scouts and Cubs will call at the homes in the district to pick up contributions of soft drink and beer bottles. Everyone is asked to co-operate in this drive as the money is badly needed by the Scouts and Cubs.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Snowsell spent the first week-end of November in Vancouver visiting Mrs. Snowsell's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hubbard.

Glenmore road foreman finds bike in ditch

H. J. Harden, Glenmore road foreman, reported finding a boy's bicycle in a roadside ditch. It had apparently been there for some time as it is rusty in some places. RCMP have been notified.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tinkler, formerly of Vancouver, have moved into the B. Hume residence. Mrs. Tinkler is the sister of Mrs. W. R. Hicks.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leonard, of Bankhead Crescent, were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leonard Sr. and Lawrence Leonard, of Lestock, Sask.

Neil McCormick received an eye injury which required several stitches while he was playing as goalie in a midget hockey game at the Memorial Arena last week.

John E. Hay, an engineer on the ferry, and F. R. Alcock, sanitary inspector, were local delegates at the recent provincial government employees convention at the Georgia Hotel in Vancouver.

Harold Pointer is recuperating from an illness which has confined him to his home for the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mitchell returned yesterday from a week's holiday spent in Vancouver.

Canadian railways rates are comparable with those of any other country in the world despite the fact that there are so few people to support the vast systems.

Official statistics show that in the next four years the engineering courses of Canadian universities will graduate only 50 percent of the engineering talent required to fill immediate needs of the Dominion.

Thanks

We would like to express, through the medium of your "Courier," on behalf of our Branch Executive, our very sincere thanks to the Press and Radio and to all Kelowna and District Citizens, for the splendid response to the sale of Wreaths and Poppies last Saturday, November 7th, 1953.

Especially thanks are due to the Corporation of the City of Kelowna, the businessmen of Kelowna, the Sea Cadets, the B.C.D. Army Cadets, the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, and to Comrade W. G. Denley and members of the Kelowna Branch of the Legion for their help and co-operation in making this year's efforts the best yet.

Thank you all.

Sincerely yours,

Pioneer Peachland resident
Mrs. A. J. MacKenzie passes

Funeral services were held today for Mrs. Albert MacKenzie, 70, a resident of the Peachland district since 1898.

Mrs. MacKenzie died Monday at the Summerland General Hospital and is survived by her husband whom she married in 1905, two sons, Wallace, of Peachland, and Gordon, of Narmata, and three daughters, Ella Gertrude King, Trout Creek; Ada Grace Farrell, Westview and Muriel, of Peachland.

A prominent Baptist all her life, Mrs. MacKenzie was a charter member of the Peachland Baptist Church and an untiring worker for the Peachland Women's Institute and the Baptist Mission Circle.

Rev. J. Knight officiated at the services held in the Peachland Baptist Church.

Pallbearers were: Wallace MacKenzie, Gordon MacKenzie, Wilfred King, Bob Farrell, Harold McCall and Ray Harrington.

Roselawn Funeral Home in Peachland was in charge of the arrangements.

Gov't sponsored sports program
gets support

With the passage of an amendment to the municipal act at the recent session of the legislature, city and municipal councils were granted the authority to appoint recreation commissions and the latter groups must now appoint a recreation director on a full or part-time basis.

Some 20 centres have already taken advantage of the provincial government-back community programs branch grants and are operating recreational courses in night schools throughout the province. Jim Pantou is the regional consultant for the Okanagan Valley, Princeton, Grand Forks and Kettle Valley districts.

The most popular recreational courses offered are square dancing, keep-fit classes, golf, folk dancing, archery, badminton and volleyball. Minister of Education, Robert Bonner has announced that information concerning the functioning of the community programs branch is being sent to all city and municipal councils, school boards, chambers of commerce and all other interested groups, and stresses the fact that local control over public recreation is an essential part of the plan.

Last week, the nine regional consultants of the various areas of B.C. met with the new director and other officials of the department of education to plan future services. Speaking to the consultants, Mr. Bonner emphasized that the programs branch stands ready to assist adult recreation in any centre of the province.

Any community wishing to inaugurate a recreational program or to co-ordinate recreational activities will receive advice and assistance from the regional consultants.

RUINS HEAVIEST TEAM At 181.3 pounds on the average, the Boston Bruins are the heaviest team in the NHL this year. Toronto is next at 180.9 pounds.

Pro baseball still "sport" Two former minor league baseball players and the former owner of the El Paso, Tex., baseball club, who lodged appeals against the much-publicized "player-reserve clause," keystone of organized baseball, heard the United States Supreme Court rule that professional baseball is still only a sport and as such not subject to anti-trust laws.

The three appeals contended that baseball exercised an illegal monopoly over activities of its players by use of the reserve clause. This clause—included in all baseball contracts—put a player under complete control of the club that owns his contract and his appeals heard in Supreme Court asked for the reversal of a 1922 ruling by Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes in which he stated that baseball, because it was a sport, did not come within the scope of federal anti-trust laws.

No less than 14 players who wore New York Yankees' pinstripes in the NHL last season are absent this season.

Banking by mail saves farmers' time

Nowadays, farmers are often too busy to spare time for trips into town. That's why many find the Bank of Montreal's "banking-by-mail" service particularly useful. They save time and trouble by having the postman do their banking for them.

Banking by mail is quick, too. Deposits and banking instructions received by the B of M through the post claim immediate attention. Many a farmer makes a practice of sending in his poultry or livestock cheques for deposit in his savings account, along with his passbook

Local druggist elected president of Okanagan Pharmacists Ass'n

Gerald A. Elliott, of Kelowna, was elected president of the newly-formed District No. 4 Pharmacists Association at a meeting held recently in Vernon.

Mr. Elliott is also vice-president and a member of the Council of the Pharmaceutical Association of British Columbia.

The new organization embraces all pharmacists in the area from Ashcroft, Kamloops and Revelstoke through the Okanagan Valley and south to Osoyoos, and also embracing the Similkameen Valley and Grand Forks.

G. A. ELLIOT

Reid Clarke, of Vernon, was elected vice-president of the association; Wilson A. McGill, of Kelowna, secretary-treasurer.

The newly formed organization will co-operate with the Pharmaceutical Association of B.C. and handle professional, commercial and social matters in connection with the profession of pharmacy in the Okanagan, Similkameen and Kamloops and adjacent areas.

aska, some going down the Fraser Canyon to Vancouver, others visiting Prince George, Prince Rupert or the Okanagan Valley, thus benefiting all parts of British Columbia.

Whereas a good hard surface highway running through the interior would substantially reduce freight and express rates to interior points, because of the competition that would take place from highway transportation.

Whereas excessive transportation costs is now one of the greatest obstacles to the development of British Columbia.

Whereas no other highway is geographically situated to serve all parts of the interior to the same extent as the Big Bend.

Whereas it is logical, sensible and a good business venture, to build one main highway across the interior of British Columbia because the extra revenue that it would bring to the province in the form of additional taxes and the saving in transportation charges should pay for the construction of such a road over a very short period.

Therefore be it resolved, that we, the organized Auto Courts and Resorts Association, now assembled in Convention, hereby request our Provincial Government to complete the "Big Bend" portion of the Trans-Canada Highway immediately.

ADEQUATE DESCRIPTION

The membership further noted that the description of the Okanagan Valley in the government-produced travel guide did very little to make the valley attractive to the tourist and summarily drafted a resolution to have the description amended.

Whereas The Okanagan Valley is described in our Government travel guide "Auto Courts and Resorts of British Columbia" as being largely agricultural.

Whereas the description of the Okanagan Valley in our Government Guide, is not worded in such a way as to make it attractive to tourists.

Whereas Other British Columbia districts, notably Vancouver, Victoria and the coastal districts, are described in such a way as to make them sound much more attractive to tourists unfamiliar with British Columbia than the Okanagan Valley.

Whereas People who are familiar with the Okanagan Valley know that there is no better place to spend a vacation than in the Okanagan.

Whereas We, as taxpayers, feel that we have a right to an equal break with other British Columbia communities in the Travel Bureau's description of the Okanagan Valley.

Therefore be it resolved, that we, the members of Auto Courts and Resorts of the Okanagan Valley herein assembled, appoint a committee to draw up a suitable description for the Okanagan Valley for the purpose of attracting tourists, and submit it to our Government Travel Bureau, with the request

Have you looked for those toys?

Has the man of the house checked the attic and basement yet for those discarded toys so vital if the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Brigade toy-repair shop is to be a success?

Response to the appeal by the smoke-eaters for slightly damaged or discarded toys to be repaired for the needy children of the district has been sketchy to date. Many of the toys that have been received to date are in tip-top shape.

The public is urged once more to look for toys that stand a reasonable chance of being repaired so that less fortunate kiddies will be able to enjoy this year's Christmas.

POPPY SALES TOTAL $2,030

P. F. Hilborn, president of the Kelowna Branch, Canadian Legion, announced that receipts from the sale of poppies and wreaths last Saturday topped all previous efforts. Total sales amounted to $2,030.09.

During the poppy day campaign, $1,387.59 was received from the sale of poppies and $742.50 realized through wreath sales.

Thunder of waters

Indian name for Niagara Falls aptly describes honeymooner's paradise, says ex-Kelownian

(Editor's note: This is another feature story by Miss Oli Daum, former women's editor of The Courier, now residing in Toronto. In the accompanying article, Miss Daum describes the beauty of Niagara Falls.)

Niagara... thunder of the waters. The Indian name aptly describes the sounds of Niagara but it doesn't even touch upon its beauty. After just one look at the renowned Falls and Niagara City nestled beside them, I dare say the Indians didn't overlook the beauty—they probably couldn't find a word in their colorful language appropriate enough to describe it.

I haven't found one in ours, either.

My companions and I spent three hours on a guided tour of the honeymooner's paradise. It covered most of the features and historical attractions but on my next visit I intend to take the deluxe tour and see them all.

BEST VIEW
The Falls, of course, are the greatest attraction. The best view of both the American and Horseshoe (Canadian) Falls is on our side of the border. Ironically, the Americans have to come to our country to see their Falls at their best. But should you desire a real close-up, at one spot across the border you can get close enough to swish your hands in the water just as it bounds over the banks. This isn't advisable though, because the current is so swift that you may not get your hand back again! The amazing Falls are divided into two parts, separated by an island. The greater left bank, in Canada, is horseshoe-shaped. The crest is 2,600 feet across. The height is 155 feet. The American Falls are 1,625 feet high and 1,400 feet broad.

WHITE FROTH
The waters rushing to the banks are a clear green but once over, they plunge down in a thundering white froth. Imagine the breathtaking beauty when the Falls are illuminated in every color of the rainbow!

The scenery along the Niagara River, which is 37 miles long, is unsurpassed in beauty (except in B.C. that is). We had close-ups of the whirlpool and the whirlpool rapids. It's a good thing I took a good look going, because coming, I struggled with the film in my camera and all I got out of the return trip was a mangled scrap of film. That will teach me to be excited!

All along the trip, the guides recount the history of particular spots. For instance, Capt. Webb, who was the first man to swim the English Channel, drowned in an attempt to swim the rapids, which are said to be the most treacherous in the world. We saw the barrel in which Major Hill successfully went over the Falls and heard the stories of men who crossed over the Falls on a tight-rope.

SCENIC TUNNEL TOUR
We also took in the scenic tunnel tour which leads behind and under the Horseshoe Falls. For this tour the guides outfit the tourists in rubber-wear from tip to toe. By the time they're finished one looks like a man from Mars, but it sure does add to the atmosphere!

Long ere the white man came, what is now the thriving city of Niagara Falls, was a great gathering place for the noble redman and here were located for a long time the Neuter Indians who made this area a place of peace on both sides of the Falls.

Three factors are largely responsible for the building of the busy little city of Niagara Falls, Canada. (Population, 32,000.) They are the location at the gateway to the Dominion; its position as the centre of generation of the greatest power development in the world and its proximity to the great cities. The city of Niagara Falls has never suffered from boom or collapse. Today it has diversified industries.

Among the most important industries of Niagara Falls are the generation of electrical power and electro-chemical products. One of the largest electro-chemical companies in the world has its largest plant here, manufacturing nitrates, artificial fertilizers and other chemicals. Here are great factories, using electric furnaces for the fabrication of artificial abrasives. Three great silverware factories are located here as well. Other products manufactured here range from shredded wheat, chain and automobile accessories, wire weaving for papermaking, batteries high tension insulators, carpet sweepers, foundries making all kinds of iron and steel goods, railway equipment, cranes and hoists.

Beautiful gardens and parks surround the Niagara Falls and River for miles. The American and the Canadian Niagaras are joined by "Rainbow Bridge." It spans the river within full view of the Falls. At the foot of the bridge on the Canadian side is a carillon tower with 55 bells, ranging from nine pounds to ten tons. Their pealing melodies can be heard for miles.

GROWERS WANT LIMITED-USE WOODEN BOXES
RUTLAND — Rutland growers are anxious that steps be taken to prevent standard wooden boxes being used for private fruit shipments except those originating from licensed shippers.

Resolution to this effect was passed by the Rutland B.C.F.G.A. board at its recent meeting. The growers' parent body for consideration at the 1954 convention. It was stated that boxes are being taken from growers' orchards and that the loss is running into hundreds of dollars. Glenmore and East Kelowna growers have similar losses.

A nominating committee was appointed to bring in a slate of officers for the local's annual meeting to be held Nov. 26. Joe Follmer was named committee chairman and members are Matt Ivans and C. W. Wood.

Text of the resolution reads as follows: "Whereas the loss of apple boxes used for harvesting our crop increases cost of packing or is a direct charge against the individual grower and whereas cartons and other types of containers which do not go out of our orchards are now available for shipment of fruit; therefore be it resolved that the executive of the B.C.F.G.A. take steps to prevent the shipment of fruit in standard wooden boxes, originating from packinghouses, except by the licensed shippers whose name is stenciled or printed on the box."

An epidemic of chicken stealing is being reported from various parts of the district, with some ranchers reporting as high as 50 being taken. Favorite time for purloining them seems to be week-ends, or during absence of owner on a short trip.

Percy Wolfe has moved to the former Halt property, which he recently purchased through the V.L.A.

Mrs. Earl Minter, of Chilliwack, and her young son are visitors at the home of Mrs. Minter's mother, Mrs. W. F. Schell.

Recently Glen Garry of the department of agriculture and his assistant, Miss Matto, brought their laboratory equipment to the Rutland school where they gave a demonstration of the testing of soils. The soil tested came from the school vocational agriculture plot.

Board of industrial relations meets here November 19
The board of industrial relations will hold a public hearing in the Royal Anne Hotel, on November 19, at 10:00 a.m. to give parties who are concerned with the minimum wage orders and regulation which apply to employers and employees in the fresh fruit and vegetable industry an opportunity to make further submissions in connection with their revision.

The board held hearings in this connection in Vancouver, on November 7 and December 12, 1952, and heard recommendations made by employee and employer organizations representing them. However, the board believe that persons in the industry in the Okanagan who were unable to be present at the other hearings may desire to express their opinions, and accordingly the board is af-

Building permit values top
half-million dollar mark

Building permit values for the first ten months of the year exceeded the half-million dollar mark, according to figures released by A. E. Clark, city building inspector.

Last month, 20 permits were issued for a value of $54,010 bringing the ten-month figure to $529,576, compared with $453,375 during the corresponding period last year.

Three business building permits were issued for a value of $18,900; three residential permits valued at $28,000; three permits for alterations to houses valued at $1,200; seven permits for construction of garages and carports valued at $2,850; one permit for a $90 shed; and three permits for signs valued at $3,000.

Following table shows a comparative list of building permits for the past ten years:

fording them this opportunity. If anyone desires to speak to the board in connection with matters not related to the public hearing the necessary arrangements will be made for the person to meet the board on November 20 in Kelowna provided that sufficient notice has been given.

The board has not held a meeting in the interior since February 9, 1951, and it is felt that the meetings on November 19 and 20 will prove beneficial both to the public and the members of the board.

Local artists can now display work
at book shop

Local artists now have an opportunity to display their art work publicly, due to the offer extended by Rev. Cyril Clarke, proprietor of the Kelowna Book Shop.

First to take advantage of the fact are Gwen Lamont, well-known Okanagan Mission resident and Grace M. Willis, whose oil paintings will be on display commencing today.

Mr. Clarke feels that local artists should be encouraged in every way possible. He is prepared to make a portion of the store a small art gallery, with an invitation extended to the public to view the art work at any time.

Motivated simply by a desire to be of service, Mr. Clarke invites all local artists to make use of his premises, conveniently located next to the Union Library.

Entering the property of Louis L. Roehndt with firearms, without having permission, cost Kenneth Edward Nuyens a $10 fine and $3 in costs in district police court.

HITHER AND YON

RETURN FROM HOLIDAY ON MISSISSIPPI RIVER-BOAT

Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Hynes, Bernard Avenue, recently returned from a holiday cruise down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers by riverboat. Their cruise, which began in Cincinnati, took them 1,500 miles down-river to New Orleans where the mayor met them and gave them the key to the city. Dr. and Mrs. Hynes read of this unusual trip in Holiday Magazine and said that people from 28 States and three Provinces were represented among the 200 passengers. Since returning to Kelowna, Mrs. Hynes has had her sister and brother-in-law visiting at her home from Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. K. W. J. Reid and their young son, Kenny.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Curtis, who recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, were honored at a surprise party arranged by their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Donna Curtis. About 35 guests drank a toast to the couple, proposed by Mr. George Reith, and contributed to the gift of a "pot of gold." Mr. and Mrs. Curtis were married in Ellensburg, B.C., in 1901 when Mr. Curtis took up farming. In 1933 they retired to Rutland, They have one son, Frank, and four grandchildren, Teddy, Kenneth, Wendy and Garry.

NURSE VISITS... Miss Joyce Barlee, nurse in training at the Escondido hospital spent the week-end visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Barlee.

MOTOR TO REVELSTOKE... Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Trueman, Glenwood Avenue, motored to Revelstoke over the week-end to visit Mrs. Trueman's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. McGregor. Mr. and Mrs. McGregor were celebrating their silver wedding anniversary.

VISITS PARENTS... Mr. and Mrs. F. Nicklin with their daughter, Ardene, spent the week-end in Revelstoke where they visited Mrs. Nicklin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Robertson.

ENTERTAIN HOUSE GUESTS... Mr. and Mrs. Gordon W. Smith, Wolsley Avenue, entertained Thursday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. Best, of Vancouver, who have been their guests for a few days.

ROUNABOUT

By EILEEN LEAROLD

As they say in the song, love is the greatest thing. It's the big motivator. It makes weaklings of some, and heroes of others. Yet people in love do the most remarkably silly things. The first time I was in love I sawed all the heels off my shoes. The object of my affections was a blonde, blue-eyed chemical engineer with a rare and beautiful smile. But he was shorter than I when I wore shoes.

As I was accustomed to wearing shoes, it was a problem that could only be solved by drastic measures. So I repaired to the basement where my sister was electrified to find me hacking the heels of my shoes in half.

As I later discovered, the trouble with my little plan was that I didn't saw evenly. Some heels tipped forward, whereas some tipped sideways. This gave me a very peculiar gait.

Unfortunately after the big operation I thought I was still too tall, so I walked with my knees bent which gave me an even more peculiar gait.

I stumbled around with bent knees on those unbalanced heels until a day when I caught sight of a hideously deformed character reflected in a plate glass window.

After that I spent more time barefoot, or just gitting down.

Another manifestation of my adoration was that I began to take a belated interest in chemistry. Whereas at school I had learned little but that H₂O—water, I now buckled down to learning that MgSO₄·7H₂O—epsom salts.

A very valuable formula for a young girl to know. Especially when her ideal works in an epsom salts plant.

I also learned the function of centrifuges, evaporators, water-coolers, filter-presses, pumps and pumps. Our conversation was very romantic.

Me: "How's the salt content in that new load from the lake?"
He: "Ummmm. Not bad. Only trouble is there's been so much rain the anhydrous crust is nearly all gone."

She: "How awful! And the pressure?"
He: "Full of mud. Trouble is the boiler isn't making the steam it should."

She: "Not even with the extra B.T.U.'s in the new coal?"
He: "So it went the tenderly instructing me in the epsom salts business while I ran barefoot. To other people a handful of this brand of salts may bear no hint of romance, but to me it was as breath-takingly beautiful as stardust. See how the little crystals wink and sparkle?"

I still carry a bottle of "our" epsom salts with me. Someday I may add water and drink it—or better still give it to someone else to drink. But not yet.

STEEL PLATES ANGLES BARS BEAMS CHANNELS

WESTERN BRIDGE & STEEL FABRICATORS LTD.
VANCOUVER, B.C.

This'n that at Summerland Experimental Station

Most orchards are going into the winter in good condition, although some may be somewhat dry, according to a report issued by the Summerland Experimental Station.

The fruit crop, with the exception of prunes, was good during the past season. New methods of handling stone fruits put a better product in the hands of the consumer; prunes were disappointing due to shrivel.

The vegetable deal, particularly tomatoes, was poor because of low soluble solids in the fruit. New canning processes, developed at the Summerland laboratory, will utilize all fruits available to them.

Following is a detail report dealing with various phases of work carried out at the Summerland Experimental Station:

APRICOT BREEDING
(F. Keane and A. J. Mann)
For the third successive year

apricot seedling evaluation was undertaken on a large scale, several hundred trees fruiting this year for the first time. The fruit of these seedlings in detail and a high percentage of the seedlings will be deleted, principally due to lack of firmness and quality of the fruit. Possibly 10 percent of the seedlings produced fruit of sufficient promise to justify retention of the trees for further testing. One seedling produced fruit of outstanding firmness, size, color and freedom of pit, and its quality as fresh fruit was fair. This seedling has now been propagated for extended test and samples have been canned. At present this would appear to be the most promising of the several thousands of apricot seedlings which have been evaluated since 1949.

SHRIVEL OF ITALIAN PRUNES
(A. J. Mann)
The station has under observation nine commercial orchards each containing comparable blocks of early and regular strains of Italian prune. This project was initiated in order to compare the strains for vigor, productivity, susceptibility to rotten leaf disease and, eventually, winter hardiness. However, when it became known that the prune crop was severely affected by shrivel, observations were made in these orchards to ascertain whether the strains showed differences in susceptibility to shrivel.

It was found that all strains were susceptible in some instances. However, two orchards were found in which the early strains showed no appreciable shrivel, whereas the regular Italian prune in the same orchards was severely affected. Shivel of prunes this year is estimated to have reduced the crop by about 40%. Since the cause of shrivel is unknown, and since the Italian prune and its early strains are now the only plums produced in large quantity in British Columbia, it is very necessary that an investigation be undertaken into all phases of prune production.

EFFECTS OF BLOSSOM SPRAYS
(W. Porritt)
This year at the Summerland Experimental Station maleic hydrazide thinning sprays were applied to peaches at full bloom, using both dilute and concentrate sprays. Dilute spray of 500 ppm and concentrate sprays of 5,000 and 2,500 ppm were applied in the test. Trees receiving 5,000 and 2,500 ppm in concentrate sprays were seriously overthinned and almost every fruit was removed from trees sprayed with 500 ppm dilute spray. All trees to which hydrazide was applied were temporarily injured by the spray. Growth of shoots and leaves was retarded. Sprayed leaves were considerably smaller and narrower than healthy leaves on check trees. Healthy new growth and normal leaf development were not apparent until about six weeks following the application of maleic hydrazide.

STOP DROPPING SPRAYS
(S. W. Porritt)
Loss of apples from wind and natural dropping has always been a serious hazard to the McIntosh grower. Thirteen years ago the problem was partially solved by the introduction of pthalene acetic acid stop-dropping sprays. These sprays were effective in some cases, but always unpredictable, and duration of the sticking effect was limited to nine or ten days. The introduction of another hormone, 2,4-D, three years ago, marked a new milestone in the advancement of pomology. The stick-on property of this material is not only uniformly good but the effect persists for three weeks from time of application.

This station has carried on an active program of study with this hormone over the past three years and has found that where the material is applied at the correct time (about September 7 for McIntosh), at the proper concentration (about 57 grams of material per acre), and the fruit harvested within the normal picking range, for the variety loss from windfall has been greatly reduced and no adverse effects upon keeping quality have been noted. As a result of these experiments, this material is being widely applied this season to McIntosh orchards throughout the Interior of British Columbia.

PRECOOLING STONE FRUIT
(D. V. Fisher)
In an endeavour to deliver better quality stone fruits to the market, the Experimental Station has this year embarked on a program of harvesting fruit more mature and precooling it to decelerate ripening. The program in most packing houses is to receive fruit in the evening, precool it overnight to remove field heat, pack it the morning and replace it in cold storage for a day to reduce it to a temperature of 50 degrees F. or lower before shipping. The only requirement of the sales agency is that the fruit show a core temperature of 50 degrees F. when loaded in the morning and replace it in cold storage for a day to reduce it to a temperature of 50 degrees F. or lower before shipping.

The experimental station has played its part in this development. Laboratory and commercial scale precooling experiments, conducted over a period of years, provided a background of information for implementing this change of policy. This season cooling by refrigeration of cherries, apricots and peaches are being determined by means of recording clocks with fruit being handled under actual commercial conditions. These tests conducted in local packing houses will provide additional information for refining precooling techniques in future seasons.

GANNED PICKLED CHERRIES
(C. C. Strachan)
To date there has been no satisfactory method for heat processing pickled cherries. It is believed that the commercial possibilities of pickled cherries would be greatly enhanced if a good quality canned product could be developed. A procedure now has been developed which produces a high quality canned product. The pickled cherries may be satisfactorily pasteurized in either lined cans or in glass jars. The latter may have somewhat more eye appeal although lithographed cans also could be attractive. The important points in preparing quality ganned pickled cherries are as follows:

1. Cure the cherries before canning (eight weeks).
2. Add cold (less than 70 degrees F.) curing liquor to the washed cherries. Boiling hot curing solution dills the color, checks and cracks the skins.
3. Preheat the cure at a temperature of 40 to 60 degrees F. Curing at temperature above 70 degrees F. results in poor flavored product with darker, less bright fruit. These conditions are particularly marked at temperatures above 80 degrees F. At temperatures much below 40 degrees F., rate of curing is greatly retarded. The recommended temperature also results in the best texture.

4. After eight weeks of curing, the cherries are sufficiently cured to be processed. The cans or jars are packed with the cherries in curing liquor and heat processed to a centre temperature of 190 degrees F.; then cooled as rapidly as possible. For instance, in the case of the cans the product is steam exhausted for three minutes at 208 to 210 degrees F., sealed and cooked six minutes in boiling water, followed by water cooling.

It is important that initially the correct pickling liquor formula and correct ratio of fruit curing liquor always be used.

FRUIT PIE FILLERS
(F. E. Atkinson and C. C. Strachan)
B.C. Tree Fruits Limited and B. C. Fruit Processors Limited, the two grower owned companies responsible for the disposal of the Okanagan crop, are becoming worried regarding the disposal of Moorpark and Perfection apricots when all the new plantings come into bearing. This year the laboratory has continued its study of pie fillers, using these two varieties of apricots and have submitted samples to B.C. Fruit Processors Limited of pie filler made of Moorpark, Perfection, and half and half. So far results indicate that the Perfection's deep color, solid flesh and slightly better flavor, are an aid to the Moorpark. The latter tends to be light in color and watery in texture. Based on the work already done on this project, B.C. Fruit Processors Limited are putting up a commercial pack this year and are planning to make a strong effort to introduce it to the market. Samples of apricot puree and baby food also have been submitted to B.C. Fruit Processors Limited. Extensive tests with pie fillers also have been made using peaches, prunes and apples. Numerous thickeners are being investigated including various starches, "improved" starches, carrageen, locust bean gum, and methocel. These are being employed alone and in combination.

The Victoria merry-go-round

By JAMES K. NESBITT

VICTORIA—The government, in the Victoria by-election Nov. 24, is lucky because the opposition is divided four ways—Liberal, Conservative, C.C.F. and Social Credit. This should make it easy for Finance Minister Gundersen to get elected. Governments always like the opposition to be well split up, and that's why the Bennett regime is happy as it contemplates Nov. 24.

There's the usual name-calling going on. Premier Bennett and former Premier Johnson are engaged in a bitter argument about finances. Mr. Bennett says it's this way, and Mr. Johnson says, oh, no, it isn't; it's the other way. Mr. Gundersen hopped in to say it was both ways. Anyway, it's just a matter of bookkeeping. Politicians at election time always argue about high finance, and the public can't make sense of either side. So Messrs. Bennett and Johnson aren't breaking any new trail; a similar, and very famous argument went on in the 1937 election campaign between Mr. Hart and Mr. Anson. Mr. Hart said it was one way, and Mr. Anson said it wasn't; it was just the opposite. The public believed them both, and each was elected.

And so now it's Madame Senator Nancy Hodges. A few years back it was Madame Speaker Nancy Hodges. Everybody hopes Mrs. Hodges will be able to live up to the dignified, somnolent Senate in Ottawa, as once she lived up to the B.C. Legislature. It'll be a tough job, but if anyone can do it, Nancy can.

Mrs. Hodges was always best in the B.C. House when she was going after the C.C.F. However, most of the Senate is now composed of Liberals who, naturally enough, see eye to eye. The few Conservatives left are too old to have much fight in them. There aren't any C.C.F. or Social Credit Senators, and there won't be as long as the Liberals are in power. So it's going to be difficult for Nancy, but she'll probably find some way of making the headlines.

Fact that J. A. Reid, M.L.A. for Salmon Arm, has bought a house in Victoria keeps the buzz going that he's going to be taken into the cabinet. There could well be much in this buzz. It's highly unusual for an up-country member to move to Victoria unless he has been given the tip he'll get a cabinet job. To move out of his home constituency and live in Victoria, as a private M.L.A., is almost a certain way of courting defeat at the next election.

binations. Processing procedures which will retain the form of the cut fruit as well as characteristic color and flavor are also being studied. The objective is to produce the highest quality products possible, in the most economical way. Miss Dorothy Britton, who recently joined the staff as home economist, has been of great assistance in this project. By preparing pies with various pie fillers, a much more accurate evaluation of the product and its consumer acceptance has been possible. Satisfactory formulae have been devised for apricots, peaches and prunes. Results of this investigation are being employed by B.C. Fruit Processors Limited to make an introductory pack.

it will be out of luck. Most of us will never know what went on behind-the-scenes in the hectic days of Coalition.

Mr. Anson's political life was one of deep frustration. He dearly wanted to be premier, but he could never make it. In 1947, when John Hart resigned as premier, Mr. Anson really thought he should have been given the government's top job. The Liberal party, naturally enough, wouldn't permit that, and so Byron Johnson became premier. Mr. Anson was wild, and it's to be suspected he and Mr. Hart had many a bitter argument.

Culley takes over second in puck loop's point race

Bill Warwick still continues as the leader in the OSHL's point race, according to official statistics released this week by C. R. Blacklock of Penticton and covering games up to Saturday morning. The official statistics also had brother Dick Warwick (also of Penticton) in second.

Unofficially, however, Don Culley of Kelowna took over the runner-up spot with his three goals and one assist at Kamloops Saturday night. Culley's hat-trick boosted his goal production to 11, tying Bill Warwick for the lead in that department.

Bill and Dick Warwick are piling up the assists, division with 15 each. Mike Durnan, Culley's linemate, added a goal and an assist to his total Saturday night to hold on to a tie for seventh place with Jack Miller of Vernon, who also picked up a pair of points Saturday.

Kamloops still has no representative among the top ten in the point race. This may be due in part to a slip-up in Trail, where, according to Blacklock, a copy of the scoresheet was not forwarded to him for the October 29 Kamloops at Trail game. LAFAE IN THIRD Blacklock's official statistics had Packer goalie Al Lafae in the last spot in the goalies' average but Kelowna's 6-2 win at Kamloops Saturday not only put the Packers back in third place at the expense of the Elks but boosted Lafae into third again, moving Kamloops' Hal Gordon to the lowest slot again.

Official team penalty data is as follows (covering games up to Saturday morning): Kamloops 138 minutes; Vernon 154; Kelowna 185; Penticton 256. Individually Blacklock's data showed penalties for only the top ten. Grant Warwick

Badminton club downs Vernon shuttlers 23-13

Kelowna Badminton Club played ungracious host to the Vernon club Sunday, wrapping up the mixed doubles round-robin at 23-13. On the roster for the visitors were: C. Cottrell, J. Caplette, J. Fleming, B. Brooks, E. Foote, K. Ellison, D. Corner, B. Husband, B. House, K. Herman, I. Foote and L. Brooks.

Major tournaments for the valley have been scheduled for the coming season and each are two-day affairs. Clubs officials have also announced that due to the large and enthusiastic turnout at the club, Thursday night has been set aside as singles night. Juniors will play on Tuesday and Thursday from 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 and on Saturday morning for two hours from 8:30.

Following is the complete schedule for valley tournaments: Nov. 14-15—mixed doubles American handicap, at Kelowna; Nov. 21-22—Similkameen open tournament, at Princeton; Dec. 6-7—Oliver invitational tournament, at Oliver; Jan. 16-17—Men's doubles (Butler Cup) and ladies' doubles, at Kelowna; Feb. 6-7—South Okanagan tournament, at Penticton; Feb. 20-21—North Okanagan tournament, at Vernon; March 6-7—Central B.C. tournament, at Kelowna; March 26-28—Okanagan junior tournament, at Kelowna; April 16-18—West Kootenay tournament, at Nelson.

SLATER JOINS ELKS
KAMLOOPS—Newest addition to the Kamloops Elks of the OSHL is Don (Slat) Slater, 26-year-old left winger who was bought outright from the New Westminster Royals Thursday.

LADIES' GOLF LEAGUE

Tuesday, Nov. 3

Three of the day's four honors were captured by Drivers, Kay Buckland copping both individuals. Mrs. Buckland's 264 single enabled the drivers to take team single honors of 810 and her high triple of 620 boosted Drivers' three-game score to 2103. But it was just short of the best three-gamer (2148) rolled by their opponents, the Fairways. Fairways proved better at point-grabbing, finishing with three of the four against Drivers. Other team scores were: Birdies 3, Eagles 1, Pars 3, Tees 1.

BOWLDROME MEN'S LEAGUE

Tuesday, Nov. 3

Old Master Rico Guidi was in form Tuesday as he rolled 303, 249 and 291 for an 843 triple that topped all scores. But single honors were taken by Joe Schneider of Cascades who scored 328 in his second game, assisting team-mates to both team laurels—1259 and 3302, including handicap.

Team scores were: Cascades 2, Rutland Cubs 2, No. 14's 3, K.V.B. 1, Oak Barbers 4, Chiefs 0, Occidental Fruit 4, Kelowna Machine Shop 0, C.N.R. 4, Industrial Electric 0, Kelowna Battery Shop 3, Copp's Shoe Store 1, Sutton's Meat Market 4, Pollock Motors 0 (by default), Firemen 4, Simpson's 0 (by default).

BOWLDROME LADIES' LEAGUE

Wednesday, Nov. 4

B. Hamilton did her best but it was for a losing cause as the Stags fell before Haworth's 3-1, the latter coming up with both team highs of 939 and 2712. Miss Hamilton tagged both individual efforts with her 269 and 623.

Results were: Haworth's 3, Stagettes 1; Laurettes 4, Early Birds 0; Bank of Montreal 3, Kiwaniss 1; Lanes 3, High Balls 1.

GAYWAY MIXED LEAGUE

Wednesday, Nov. 4

The high individual triples were strictly a family affair as Henry Young rolled 723 for the men and wife Tess Young 614 to pace the ladies. Their team, the Pinheads also tallied the best single (1,078, including handicap) for half of the night's six honors. Stan Matsuba of West Kootenay garnered the single honors for the males with 318 in his second game. Hot Shots' M. Evans topped the ladies in the single department with 290. Shiris latched on to the team-three laurels with 2,791.

Results of team play were: Sunshine Service 2, Pinheads 2; West Kootenay 3, Chevrons 1; Shiris 3, Hot Shots 1; Eddies 4, Optimists 0; Archers 2, Slow Pokes 2; Lornes 3, K.W.L.S. 1.

BOWLDROME MIXED LEAGUE

Friday, Nov. 6

The supposedly weaker sex were superior again in at long last. Anne Hodgkinson topped both sexes with her 33 single and also copped the ladies' high triple honors with her 692. Her outstanding play went a long way towards helping McLean and Fitzpatrick haul down both team laurels (1,003 and 3039, including handicap) and earn a split in points with Hi-Ho's. Ted Rabone of Bowldromes was best man for the men, hitting a 329 single and a 731 triple.

Team results were: Mc & Fitz 2, Hi-Ho's 2; Bowldromes 3, Eddies 1; Shamrocks 3, Jokers 1; Pinheads 4, C.P. Telegraphs 0; Black Motors 3, Valley Cleaners 1; Miraclean Products 3; Bank of Commerce 1; Bank of Nova Scotia 4; Cracker Jacks 0; Lucky Strikes 3, Bank of Montreal.

Minor hockey roundup

BANTAM LEAGUE (Saturday)

Maple Leafs 3, Red Wings 1
Close-fitting victories were the order of the day as the bantam league pucksters took to the ice lanes Saturday morning at the arena. Jim Dodds took a pass from Carl Grittner in the opening stanza to shove the Leafs to the fore but Red Wings' R. Evans got the even in the sandwich session and the clubs took the ice all even for the final frame. Leafs rapped the game-winning goal in that session though, with G. Hawkins taking the relay from W. Harwicke to provide the margin.

Royals 1, Rangers 0

Brian Moir closed the gate for good and Doug Lukey spoiled B. Bird's effort as the Royals eked out a narrow, 1-0 decision over Joe Fisher's Legion Rangers. After two full periods of scoreless, hard-fought hockey, Lukey grabbed the rubber and beat Bird unassisted while Bird's mates were unable to pierce Moir's shutout armor. Referees handed out five penalties to both sides with four of them coming in the last period as tempers flared. Although Royals were short-handed four times, Rangers couldn't get the equalizer.

Injured players dance successful

Kelowna's provincial champion lacrosse club, the Bruins, staged a benefit dance for the injured players fund at the Legion Hall Saturday and the good crowd in attendance contributed a net total of $140 to the cause.

Bruins, who "went about as fur as they could go" mopped up all opposition as they drove through the finals to the provincial crown this season.

There is one hitch to the otherwise ably-managed drive: the person holding the winning ticket on a draw for a $20 cosmetic case never showed up to claim his or her prize. For the benefit of that fortunate person, the lucky ticket was numbered "81."

COY CUPPERS TO JAPAN

TRAIL—The Trail Intermediate Hockey Club, holder of the Coy Cup, has been offered a chance by the B.C. Amateur Hockey Association to tour Japan.

Blackhawks 3, Canucks 4

In the highest scoring game of the Saturday session, George Boychuk dented the twine, twice to lead his mates to the tight 4-3 win when Les Habs staged a third period rally after being behind 1-0 as the minutes ticked off. Boychuk made it a three-point game as he also assisted on Olive Owens' goal and Merv Fyrt added the winning tally unassisted. For the losing Hawks, Gord Baulkham relayed Stan Senger's drive into the Canadian net in the first period when Tucker rallied unassisted and Senger from Baulkham returned the favor for the final goal.

Bruins 0, Canucks 1

Roy-Gunn's "battling" Canucks racked up their second shutout in a row to keep their goals against register at exactly zero although two different goaltenders registered the wins. Last week Bill Drinkwater hung out the shingle in a 3-0 win over Rangers and Saturday Jim Gordon held forth between the pipes as Lewellyn Thompson rapped in a last frame sizzler to provide the winning margin over Bruins. Don Ferguson saw his goaltender's dream go aglimmering as Thompson raced in alone to beat him.

PEE WEE LEAGUE (Saturday)

Hornets 1, Barons 1

As the Pee-wee League rolled out the welcome mat Saturday afternoon at the arena, Hornets and Barons battled the regulation three frames to a 1-1 draw. Brian Kelly gave Hornets first life in the middle canto as he tallied unassisted, but his mates couldn't stave off the desperate rushes of the Barons forwards and R. Gruber grabbed a J. Dodd relay to even up the count. Although both clubs played their hearts out neither could muster a tie-breaking score.

Oilers 2, Bears 0

Pee-wee Oilers' Alec Weniger proved he could kick them out in big league style as he played his first shutout game in goal. His mates, Murray Schaefer and W. Wilderman, gave him a two-goal cushion on passes from the opposition Bear passers to ring the bell unassisted.

Cloverdale, Vernon prove tops, set locals down in cage openers

Kelowna senior fives came up against too much class Saturday, spoiling hopes of a large gallery of supporters who wanted to see them triumph in the first cage games of the season.

The B.A. Oilers faltered before a strong Cloverdale team, going down 79-43. Vernon Waifs surprised the Gee-Whizzes for a convincing 44-27 win in the preliminary.

In the women's opener, the verdict was pretty well established in the first quarter when the Vernonites jumped to a 11-3 lead. Kelowna held the visitors to a 7-7 draw in the second chapter but the Vernon lasses pulled farther out front in the third, outscoring Ron Gee's girls 12-5.

A big 21-point night by Bush of Vernon highlighted the contest. Lorraine Sheffield paced the losers with 11 points.

PLAYER BANNED
The high-scoring main event also was a foregone conclusion by halftime. Scoring 23 points in the first and 20 in the second, the Cloverdale boys had a 48-23 margin by the main breaker. They continued to show mastery in both the third and fourth, outscoring the locals 16-10 and 20-10 respectively.

The Lower Mainlanders, finalists in the B.C. playoff early this spring, gave Referee Bob Hall a
